Singapore Management University (SMU)

Since January 2019, a new second Major in Health Economics and Management (HEM) offered by SMU in partnership with SingHealth is made available to prospective students.

Teachers can use the relevant news articles in the website to help debunk the misconceptions that careers in healthcare is primarily related to Biology and non-science graduates will have less career pathway options in the healthcare sector.

Tourism

Meetings, incentives, conferences and exhibitions (MICE), attractions and tours, travel services and hotels all play vital roles in making Singapore an exciting travel destination.

The tourism sector also enhances the quality and diversity of leisure options for local residents, creating a living environment that Singaporeans can be proud to call home.

One interesting way for teachers to get the students to explore this industry is to get them to check out the different job roles found in MySkillsFuture. Students can come together to do mini presentations on which jobs they found interesting in the tourism industry.

Your ability to control your attention, focus on what matters, and form insightful connections to separate the signal from the noise will be crucial to your success in life.

Complex Communication

Work today is marked by ambiguity, constant strategy changes and necessitates working virtually with cross-cultural teams.

All of this demands sophisticated communication skills from you, such as giving skillful feedback, influencing and having difficult conversations.

Empathy

Empathy is the ability to shift perspectives, and understand others on a deeply human level.

Coupled with self-awareness and the ability to assert appropriate boundaries, empathy is a superskill that will allow you to connect and engage effectively.

Adaptive Resilience

Adaptive Resilience is a fundamental hygiene factor that determines your ability to thrive.

It doesn't matter if you have the best skills in the world if you give up easily or not possess the psychological flexibility to adapt, learn and keep growing through challenging times.
